EuPA Scientific Mission Programme.

The Scientific Mission Programme supports exchange programs for young researchers and is run in collaboration with EuPA. This programme is dedicated towards developing collaborative networks among the different EuPA member communities; a minimum of 2 EuPA member Societies must support the proposal. BSPR will support applicants resident in the UK and Ireland. New collaborations, dedicated brief experimental sessions and training activities are eligible for consideration.

To be eligible for these awards, applicants must have completed a PhD / Master's degree within the last 7 years and be a member of BSPR. Members interested in participating in this programme should send a synopsis of their research proposal together with a short CV to Karin Barnouin (kbarnouin@gmail.com) and John Timms (john.timms@ucl.ac.uk) from whom further information about the programme and more details about the application procedure can be obtained.
